South Vietnam: (Buddhist plans to step up pressure on the government may increase efforts by various groups within the government to overthrow President Diem.)

(The head of the principal Buddhist organization charged on 15 July that the government had failed to honor its mid-June agreement to end discrimination. He threatened new hunger strikes, demonstrations, and suicides.

NOTE

Common Market: At the EEC Council meeting last week, the EEC Commission in effect took a position turning down the two recent US proposals for maintaining the American share of the European poultry market. Since the French and West German delegations --claiming lack of instructions--also declined to take a position on an alternative proposal suggested by the commission for reducing the poultry levies, no definitive decisions will be taken before the council's next meeting on 29-30 July. Although expressing a desire to satisfy the US concern regarding its poultry market, the council decided to invite the advice of the EEC agricultural ministers who are meeting this week and who have generally taken a strongly protectionist stand on the poultry issue.)
